

ONE MILE AT A TIME

Last spring, my classmates and I had the opportunity to spend a week abroad in the Erasmus+ project. We got to visit Turkey and learn more about the history and culture of this amazing country.

You might be wondering how we got to travel around the world and learn at the same time. Well, our school is part of Erasmus+, a project that encourages students to explore other cultures.

After submitting your application, an average of 10 students are chosen to be a part of the project, and travel to a different country

In May, my classmates and I traveled to Turkey with our teachers and spent the most unique week along with the students from Turkey. On the first day, we got to visit their school, and also take part in a photography course, outdoors. The next days we visited the city, had different classes at the school and also learned about photography and cinematography.
